To Whom It May Concern,

I enthusiastically support Ivory Christanson's Rock County Internship application. I have had the pleasure of being Ivory's teacher for the past three years, and I have a good grasp of who they are and their skills. Ivory is a dedicated student and an exceptional school and local community member. I do not have any doubts about their future success in the web development field.

Throughout their time at Rock University High School, Ivory was not only a full-time student at Rock University High School, excelling in their honors and transcribed courses, an accomplished orchestra student at Parker High School, but also a commendable college student in the Web Software Program. They diversify their classes to challenge themselves and reach their goals sooner. This may seem tricky, but Ivory has put 100% into all their courses, regardless of level or location. Ivory recognizes the importance of their education and holds it in high regard. Ivory is a meticulous student who has worked hard to maintain academic excellence, with a 3.95 GPA at all three institutions they congruently attend.

Ivory is an indispensable member of Rock University High School. As stated above, Ivory is a rockstar student. However, their dynamic leadership skills shine brightly beyond their academic achievements, evidenced by their election as the RUHS Student Leadership Council President. Embracing this role wholeheartedly, they confidently represented our school community at the School District of Janesville school board meeting, actively contributed to various volunteering initiatives, efficiently managed a room at RUHS's open house, and actively participated in our parent and governing board meetings. Furthermore, Ivory plays a pivotal role as one of our dedicated AVID tutors and graders, providing invaluable support to underclassmen and AVID teachers every week. It's hard to imagine RUHS without Ivory, who remains a key and positive presence within our school community, gradually becoming a framed portrait of what a distinguished graduate embodies.

In the face of a demanding academic schedule and various school obligations, Ivory appears to allocate every moment judiciously. Their commitment is evident as a Pricing and Click 'N Go Associate at our local Festival Foods. Juggling a myriad of challenging courses, active volunteering, and employment, Ivory sustains academic excellence with an unparalleled dedication and unwavering steadfastness that sets them apart.

Ivory has very high expectations for themselves and focuses on meeting them. They are truly an outstanding individual, destined to do fantastic things.

Please don't hesitate to contact me for any further information. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Erin Jensen
